Here are the instructions for setting Google Scholar up to show the link Full-Text@UW Libraries.

- Go to Google Scholar.

- Click on the 'Settings' gear icon that is located on the top right hand side of the screen, below the black bar.

- Type "University of Wyoming" into the "Library Links" box. Click on "Find Library." Search for University of Wyoming, and select "University of Wyoming – Full-Text @ UW Libraries".

- Click on "Save." Now the Full-Text @ UW Libraries link should appear in Google Scholar each time you run a search from off campus.

- When you click the Full-Text @ UW Libraries link you will see vendors that provide the item through the UW Libraries. Click on a vendor to access the article. Note the date of coverage on each. You will then need to login with your UW username and UW password (proxy access).

- Then you will be taken to the article or journal just as if you were on-campus. Sometimes you may be required to browse for the specific article in an archive or table of contents. Look for a PDF link to the article.
